THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION COMMITTEE ~ VOL. 2 ISSUE 3

Reflections of the Cross

By Apostle Matthew Norwood

Often the heart of man expresses deep sentiment in song that is the overflow of emotions, pathos, and deep yearning. As I thought about my sentence in the last words that Jesus uttered from the cross, "Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise," my thoughts went to two songs: "I Don't Know Why Jesus Loves Me" and these lines from another song:

*"Born to die that man might live, came to earth new life to give,
Born of Mary, born so low, many years ago.
God the Father gave His Son, gave His own beloved One,
To the wicked sinful earth, to bring mankind His love, new birth."*

— from "Ring the Bells" by Harry Bollback, 1958

There was a dread, a shrinking back by the Lord as he contemplated the full implications of going to the cross, but he knew that was why he came into the world and he had to fulfill his purpose and the purpose of his Father. The psalmist writes: "Lo, I come in the volume of the book to do thy will O God."

He came to do the will of his Father.

He was born to die.

The PAIN was real. As Lee Strobel says in his book The Case for Easter, a new word was created to describe the intense anguish caused during the crucifixion. It was excruciating!!!

The range of intense feelings is hard to comprehend, probably impossible for us to comprehend. We come close as we viewed The Passion of the Christ by Mel Gibson. Our imagination, as wild as it can be sometimes, is not wild enough to put together all the various levels of raging emotions at this time...

- There was a debate among Jesus' followers as to who would be the greatest.
- There was the crowd yelling and demanding the release of Barabbas.
- There were Roman soldiers with their weapons and the authority of the Roman government ominously visible.
- There was gambling.
- The crowds mocked him.
- There was a party atmosphere among many at the foot of the cross.
- There was darkness in the middle of the day.

Not only was Jesus crucified in the most degrading manner of criminal death, but he was crucified with criminals, two thieves were hung on a cross and placed on either side of him. Scripture says that he was numbered with the transgressors.

One of the criminals mocked and heckled Jesus asking "Aren't you the Christ? Why don't you save us and yourself?" The other criminal checked him saying, "Don't you have any regard for this just man being put to death? We, at least are getting what we deserve, but he has done nothing wrong." Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom."

...and Jesus answered...

"I tell you truly, this very day you will be with me in paradise."

The other thief did not ask and he did not receive. When the penitent thief asked, Jesus did not chide him for his criminal life. He did not rail on him and tell him what he already knew, that he was receiving what he deserved. He did not act in haughtiness at the very idea that he would ask to be remembered when Jesus himself was in such pain and agony. Jesus did not tell him how important he was and the fact that he was on a mission to fulfill the purpose of his Father in heaven—the God of the universe.

Jesus gave him what he asked for...

He was the suffering Savior who had time to stop dying on the cross long enough to assure a rank sinner that because he reached out to the One who could save, who could forgive and guarantee him a place in his kingdom.

What a Savior!! What a Savior Jesus is!

Gracious in the face of death as he was in his earthly life and ministry—eating in the home with publicans and sinners, asking the woman taken in adultery where her accusers were, and then simply saying, "Neither do I condemn thee, Go and sin no more."

Imagine: what would our response have been to any or all of these circumstances?

"The glory of the heavenly paradise will lie in fellowship with God...in beholding the face of God, and seeing him as he is: and this is the happiness promised by Christ to the penitent and believing thief."

— John Gill's Exposition of the Bible (Crosswalk)

In the salvation of one of the thieves, vital theology finds one of its finest demonstrations. Sacramentalism was refuted, for the thief was saved without recourse to baptism, the Lord's Supper, church, ceremony, or good works.

I have some pertinent questions for us to ponder during this time of remembrance:

- "Do you want to be remembered by Jesus in his kingdom?"
- Does my walk reflect being remembered by the King of kings and the Lord of lords?
- Does my talk reflect a life controlled by the One who gives New Life and changes the walk and the talk of those who belong to him.
- Can the imprint of a Christ-filled life be seen in me?

If you want to be remembered, then examine yourself; check up on your daily walk with the Lord. Some of us have gotten a little slack with our walk and our talk. But today we can ask for forgiveness for failing to do what is in our power to do for others in the name of Christ.

I close as I opened, with another song:

"Christ, the transforming light,
Touches this heart of mine,
Piercing the darkest night,
Making his glory shine
Oh, to reflect his grace,
causing the world to see,
Love that will glow,
Till others shall know Jesus revealed in me."

— from "Jesus Revealed in Me" by Rodney "Gypsy" Smith, 1931
